IV. Annual Privacy Impact Assessment \(PIA\) Process

- a. Any government agency that maintains one or more personal information (PI) systems must submit to the IPSC an annual report on the existence and character of each PI system added or eliminated since the agency's previous annual report, pursuant to HRS §487N-7. Annual reports are due no later than September 30 of each year.
- b. Discussion on agency implementation.

V. Cybersecurity of Water Systems

- a. Following coordinated cyberattacks on municipal water systems in mid-2026, the security of our public water supply has emerged as a critical national cybersecurity priority. Malicious actors successfully compromised internet-exposed Operational Technology, specifically Programmable Logic Controllers (PLCs), by exploiting vulnerabilities such as default credentials and a lack of multi-factor authentication.
- b. Discussion and appropriate action.

VI. Frontier AI Learning Models

- a. Frontier learning models represent a paradigm shift in cybersecurity, introducing both unprecedented defensive capabilities and significant new risks. Defensively, these advanced systems can protect public and organizational infrastructure by rapidly analyzing vast streams of threat intelligence, accelerating anomaly detection, and automating incident response and patch generation. Conversely, these same capabilities empower malicious actors to discover software vulnerabilities at machine speed, automate complex attacks, and deploy highly convincing social engineering campaigns at scale.
- b. Discussion and appropriate action.

VII. Protocol for Executive Sessions

- a. The Office of Information Practices (OIP) ruled against how the IPSC convened an executive session on OCT 2024 and the remedy was to release the executive session minutes with limited redactions.
- b. Discussion and appropriate action.

VIII. Good of the Order

- a. Announcements on cybersecurity or privacy related events in Hawaii
- b. Suggestions from Council for items to discuss at the next meeting
- c. Next scheduled meeting: October 21, 2026

IX. Adjournment

This ICT meeting will allow participants to enable live closed captioning during the meeting.
